Cantillon has been all for the personally conducted practice, with himself doing the heavy work in fungo hitting and directing the play, but his energies have been somewhat checked by a back which feels as if it were constructed exclusively of boils. Still, he keeps plugging away, and between grunts and groans issues his instructions.

Falkenberg is receiving specific and scientific instructions in the art of pitching. He has been a victim of several serious technical mistakes, which had much to do wift the serious habit he developed of ballooning just when he had the enemy well in hand, and the principal object of his spring work will be to overcome these defects. The veterans attribute his explosions largely to faulty training and predict that he will be almost a new man this summer; if the cussed Galveston man-carrying flying machines disugised as mosquitoes do not fly away with his attemated frame.

Game This Afternoon.

The game between the Regulars and the Colts this afternoon, is to be the real thing, according to Cantillon, and he will do the umpiring himself if he will do the umpiring himself if he will on the umpiring himself if he will on the umpiring himself if he will able to stoop low enough to squint at the curves.

So many practice games are to be played before the team gets home that Cantillon will have a chance to get a full line on each man in action. Hence, the work here is more in the order of physical training and as a good dip in the surf is about as good exercise as a man can take, it is likely that the morning practice will soon be aband-to not altogether and the early hour training ground removed from the diamond to the beach.

sald today that the association refused to give Thomas Longboat permission to run in the games of the New York A. C. because of doubts as to the Indian's amateur standing.

Crow said that he informed Rosenthal, Longboat's manager, six weeks ago that the ranner was under suspension and that he would not be permitted to go to New York. Secretary Crow said that nothing had been heard of the matter. What puzzled the Canadian A. A. U., among other things, was how Longboat could pay the expense of a manager if he received no money for his races. Capt. Victor Buchanan, president of the new Amateur Athlette Federation of Canada, speaking about the action of the Canadian A. A. U. in forbidding Longboat to run in New York, said today:

Not only is it a powerful poison but a very deceptive one. Only those who have learned by bitter experience know by the little sore or ulcer, which usually makes its appearance first, of the suffering which is to follow. It comes in the form of ulcerated mouth, and throat, unsightly copper colored spots, swollen glands in the groin, falling hair, offensive sores and ulcers on the body, and in severe cases the finger nails drop off, the bones become diseased, the nervous system is shattered and the sufferer becomes an object of pity to his fellow man. Especially is the treacherous nature of Contagious Blood Poison shown when the infected person endeavors to combat the trouble with mercury and potash. These minerals will drive away all outward symptoms of the trouble for awhile, and the victim is deceived into the belief that he is cured. When, however, the treatment is left off he finds that the poison has only been driven deeper into the blood and the disease reappears, and usually in worse form because these strong minerals have not only failed to remove the virus from the blood but have weakened the entire system because of their destructive action.
